"CHICAGO BUILDS" TRADE PROGRAM LAUNCHES WITH NEW SCHOOL YEAR

Last year, CISCO announced an expanded, long-term partnership with the Chicago Public Schools (CPS) to continue its mission of helping students, teachers and counselors become more aware of the value of a career in the union construction industry building trades.

As a result CISCO now serves as a liaison between the trade organizations and CPS to expand the program's reach to all of the CPS schools.

An exciting new initiative is the establishment of a comprehensive citywide construction trades program called Chicago Builds at the Dunbar High School campus. The move is designed to bring back the trade school model to public schools in preparing graduates for the workforce - with a professional skill.

Last Spring, Mayor Rahm Emanuel announced the creation of the new "construction trades campus" at Dunbar, serving as the program's hub.

That idea has come to fruition as the program kicked off at the start of the school year in September.

Chicago Builds, focuses on teaching students skills in: General Construction, Carpentry, Electricity, Welding and Heating/Cooling (HVAC). IBEW Local 134/LMCC and the Chicago Carpenters Union provide instructors to teach their curriculums.

Chicago Builds is a 2-year off-campus construction training program for 11th and 12th grade CPS students who are interested in pursuing a career in the union construction field.

The benefits of the program enable students to: 1) earn industry recognized certification; 2) take part in paid internships, job shadowing and visits to union training centers; 3) prepare for union entrance exams; 4) qualify for apprenticeships; and 5) earn high school credit that has real-world value in a subject students are interested in.
